NEWS RELEASE

New DMV office opening, another closing soon

The Rose Park office of the DMV, which handles the titling and registration of motor vehicles, is moving to a new Salt Lake City location this week.

The last day of business at the office currently at 799 North on Redwood is this Friday, March 28th. On March 31st, the new centrally located DMV office will open, offering better parking, a drive-up renewal window, and easy freeway access to its customers. The address for the new office is 380 West 2880 South in Salt Lake.

“Because a lot of people come to DMV during the work day, they are in a hurry to find a quick place to park and take care of business,” said DMV director Brad Simpson. “I think they are going to like the fact that this new office offers a drive-up window for renewals.”

For even easier renewals without the need to leave home or work, the state offers Renewal Express, a 24-hour online service, at www.renewalexpress.utah.gov.

DMV serves the public and automobile dealers with registrations, renewals and automobile titles. The Driver's License office, run by the Department of Public Safety, will remain at the Redwood Road location.

Additional information, office hours, and a map to the new location can be found at the DMV website: www.dmv.utah.gov.
